PLANS FOR HORSE SHOW DISCUSSED

Merchants Hear Proposition For Free Attractions and Decide to Have Booths Again This Year.

COMMITTEES WILL BE NAMED

Merchants Vote to Hold Style Show September 21, 22 and 23—Officers Are Elected.

Rapid strides were made Tuesday night at a meeting in the court house assembly room toward preparations for the annual fall festival and horse show October 25 to 30.

It was arranged for special committees to be appointed, horse show officers were selected and steps were taken toward obtaining some free attractions. Some airships flights are among the things being considered for the festival and show.

Incidentally, while all of the merchants were together, it was the choice of a majority present that a fall style show be held September 21, 22 and 23.

W. S. Oneal, who has been working at the horse show for years, was elected to act as manager and secretary and J. V. Young was nominated and elected treasurer.

S. L. Trabue, president of the Chamber of Commerce, who called the meeting, presided. He asked the meeting how it would make plans for the festival and show. Earl H. Payne moved that the chairman of the meeting and Mr. Oneal name the proper committees to carry on the work. It was announced that the committees would be selected in a very few days and published in local newspapers.

Mr. Trabue called on Henry B. Marks, who was invited here to explain some free attractions he has no offer. Mr. Marks described a proposition to give two airship flights daily for three days, with a firework display of set pieces each night. He also asked permission to bring in some concessions, none of them to be refreshment stands.

The question was debated for some time, it finally being suggested that the question of free attractions be referred to a special committee, with power to act. This was put in the form of a motion and carried, and the following committee was appointed:

A. L. Riggs, R. H. Jones, John B. Morris, Walter Easley, F. E. Wolcott, together with W. S. Oneal and J. V. Young as ex-officio members.

The question of whether booths be erected this year as a part of the decoration scheme was also debated. It was finally determined that booths should be used this year the same as last year. They were a new feature last year and were very popular. The idea was advanced that the booths not only were the cheapest decorations possible, but they formed an ideal place for the crowds to rest and were fine for merchants to use to make displays.

It was determined that red, white and blue should be the colors used in the decorations this year, the same as last year.

In as much as there was a large crowd of merchants present, E. R. Casady, chairman of the fall style show committee, suggested that there be a vote taken on the question whether a fall style should be held by the Rushville merchants this year. He said the committee had met and approved the plan and wanted to know of the merchants favored it. He suggested Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, September 21, 22 and 23.

A rising vote was taken and most of the merchants stood up in favor

SELECTION MADE ON FIFTH BALLOT

Ray Lakin is Elected Nightwatchman, Receiving One More Than Number Necessary For Choice.

NINE CANDIDATES AT FIRST

Ray Lakin was elected night-watchman to succeed Frank Sullivan, deceased, at the meeting in the court house assembly room Tuesday night, receiving one more vote than the number necessary to elect on the fifth ballot. John Conroy who was the only candidate left with Lakin on the deciding ballot, received thirty-two votes and Lakin 34.

There were nine candidates when the voting began. On the first ballot Lakin received 17, Arlie Price 11, Conroy 17, Clyde Negro 13, Clayton Fritch 1, Frank Keely 3, Blaine Hunt 1, Frank Beecraft 1. On the second ballot Keely, Fritch, Hunt and Beecraft received no votes, but Eddie Wolters received a vote. On the third and fourth ballots it narrowed down to a contest between Lakin, Conroy, Price and Negro.

Before the voting began, the meeting unanimously decided that the successful candidate should pay Frank Sullivan's widow $400, the sum which Sullivan paid for the job, at the rate of $5 a week; that he should look after the job personally and not sublet it; that he shall be a sober man; that the merchants have the right to decide who shall be his successor in case of sale and that a committee should be appointed to see that the contract was drawn up and signed. W. O. Feudner presided at the meeting.

ACCIDENT TO THRESHER FATAL

Willard Wilkes Dies at His Home Late Tuesday as Result of Mishap Ten Days Ago.

HAPPENED NEAR ARLINGTON

Realized he Would Die and Made All Arrangements For Funeral—Married Two Months.

Willard Wilkes, 22 years old, who was injured ten days ago in a threshing accident at the farm of Elmer Hutchinson, near Arlington, died Tuesday afternoon at three-thirty o'clock at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Wilkes, near Homer. He had been suffering from blood poisoning for the past few days and his death was not unexpected.

On August 19 while engaged in threshing with the company near Arlington, he was assisting in repairing the engine. The engine was started suddenly and his right arm was caught in the fly wheel. The right arm was broken both above and below the elbow, and the thumb and wrist were badly lacerated. At the time it was thought the hand might have to be amputated.

He did not improve and one week ago Monday it was found necessary to amputate the arm just below the elbow. Blood poisoning had already set in and it was hoped by this amputation to save his life. The poisoning, however, developed further and early yesterday it was seen that he could not live much longer. At ten o'clock Tuesday morning Mr. Wilkes realized that the end was near and calling his family to his bedside he bade them goodbye, saying that he did not fear to die. He also made arrangements for his burial and funeral, selecting the minister, singers and songs.

The mishap which eventually caused his death was purely accidental. The threshing machine had not been working exactly right that day, the engineer having trouble with the clutch slipping. Wilkes was not employed on the engine but on the separator and went to the engine simply to help out. The engine was in charge of Chester Northam.

Mr. Wilkes had been married only two months. He is survived by his widow, his parents and two brothers, Louis and Virgil and three sisters, Mrs. Orville Carmony and Mrs. Charles Carmony of Manilla and Miss Mabel, at home.

The funeral services will be conducted Thursday afternoon at two o'clock in the Manilla Christian church and burial will take place in the cemetery there.

DEMONSTRATION EXPECTED

Followers of Orozco Alleges he Was Killed by Americans.

(By United Press.)

El Paso, Texas, Sept. 1.—Mexican sympathizers of General Pascual Orozco, who was shot to death near here last night, claim he was murdered in cold blood by Americans. Demonstrations by Orozco followers are looked for tonight when the bodies of Orozco and his four companions will be brought to El Paso.

The police and secret service agents are looking for agitators who are trying to arouse the Mexicans against Americans.

IS PRIMARILY A DISTRICT AFFAIR

But Large Crowd of Republicans From Elsewhere in Indiana is Expected Here Sept. 15.

COMMITTEE MEETS TONIGHT

Connersville News Says Fayette County Will Send Long Train of Automobiles Here.

Plans were going forward rapidly today for the big barbaque and "Governors Day" to be held in the city park here Wednesday, September 15 for the Republicans of the sixth district and all others in Indiana who may attend. It is to be primarily a sixth district affair, but it is anticipated that many Republicans outside the district will be present.

The executive committee will hold another meeting tonight at which the final draft of the committees will be made ready for publication tomorrow. The committees will consist of those on finance, advertising, invitation, ox roast, music and decorating.

Results are being seen already from what little publicity the meeting has had. But the committee on advertising and publicity has extensive plans to bring the largest crowd ever at a district meeting to Rushville. Newspapers and handbills are to be used to spread broadcast over the state the news of the free dinner to be served here and Republican speeches that will be given.

The chairman of the executive committee will write a personal letter to every Republican county chairman and precinct committeeman in the sixth district urging his attendance. The Shelby county fair grounds will be flooded with handbills Thursday and Friday advertising the ox-roast and barbaque. Concerning the event the Connersville News says:

A movement is afoot in Fayette county to send a train of automobiles to Rushville on Wednesday, September fifteenth. The reason is sufficient, for on that day a barbaque of the old kind is to be held there. It is to be a Republican event, and the Old Burnt District entire is to have a part. Speakers of the order, James E. Watson among them, will be present, and the plans for a roaring, rousing Republican feast and rally are fully made and wholly promising. The event will be among the first of its kind to be held in the Sixth Congressional district in recent years.

MOST OF SCHOOLS TO OPEN MONDAY

Center Township Will Not Start Until September 13 and Manilla Middle of October.

INSTITUTE NEXT SATURDAY

The schools in all the townships of the county, except two, will open next Monday, September 6. The schools in Center township will open the following Monday and the opening of the Manilla school will be postponed until sometime in October. It is hoped to have the new building in Manilla in shape for the opening by the middle of October. It was stated today that the new building there will not be completed, but will be near enough finished that school can be held by that time.

The first teachers' institute of the year will be held Saturday in the assembly room of the court house. This is the preliminary institute and is to be attended by all of the township teachers. After this the teachers will meet in joint-township institutes. Indiana history will be given consideration this year at the institutes as this is the general subject under which all the programs are formed.

The Rushville city schools will open Monday, September 13.

WELL LOCATED BY A "WATER WITCH"

With Aid of Peach Fork and His "Charm," John Whitton Discovers Vein of Water.

CITY TO DRILL A NEW WELL

The water committee of the city council admits that it is just the least bit superstitious, but does not care if the desired results are obtainable. The city is contemplating the drilling of a new water well, and yesterday secured John Whitton, a "water witch" of considerable note, locate the proposed well. This is an old method, but everyone is not a "water witch."

The process is very simple. A fork from a peach tree is used by the "witch" and when held securely over a vein of water the ends of the peach fork will bend towards the ground. Under the method tried, the city officials believe they will have a fine well on the John Beale lot, in West Fifth street, near the Big Four railway.

Whitton searched all over this section of the city and finally found a fine vein of water, according to the peach fork, on the Beale lot. A stake was promptly driven in the ground and the city will start drilling for water within the next week.

BERLIN ACCEPTS U.S. DEMANDS

America's Plans Agreed to With Reference to Warning Enemy Merchantmen Before Attack.

NO RECIPROICATION ASKED

Communication Relates to Future Submarine Warfare But Leaves Open Matters of Fact.

BY CHARLES P. STEWART.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, Sept. 1.—Germany today officially accepted America's terms.

Ambassador Bernstorff, speaking for the German foreign office, informed the state department that henceforth the kaiser's submarine methods will conform to America's interpretation of international law.

There will be no more unwarned attacks on merchant ships, Germany stated. Vessels suspected of carrying contraband will be visited and searched before being destroyed. There crews and passengers will be given every opportunity to escape.

"Liners will not be sunk by our submarines without warning and without safety of the lives of non-combatants provided that the liners do not try to escape or offer resistance," was the written statement of Ambassador Bernstorff, conveying his instructions to the secretary of state today on the German answer to the latest Lusitania note.

In substance, the same assurance had been made to the state department informally several days ago. This relieved the tension but there was still much anxiety concerning the nature and conditions of the German concession. It was feared they might be so qualified as to be unacceptable.

All such doubts were removed today.

The full text of the ambassador's note to the secretary of state was as follows:

"My Dear Secretary—With reference to our conversation of this morning, I beg to inform you that my instructions concerning our answer to your last Lusitania note contained the following:

"Although I know you do not wish to discuss the Lusitania question until the Arabic incident has been definitely and satisfactorily settled, I desire to inform you of the above because this policy of my government was decided on before the Arabic incident arose."

"I have no objection to your making any use you may please of the above information."

"I remain, dear Mr. Lansing, Very Sincerely Yours."

(Signed) "J. BERNSTORFF." Commenting on the foregoing statement, Secretary of State Lansing would only say "that in view of its clearness," it seemed needless to make any comment in regard to it other than to say that it appeared to "a recognition of the fundamental principles for which we have contended."

That Ambassador Bernstorff believes the Berlin government action has cleared the way toward peace in Europe was freely stated by persons in close touch with the embassy.

At the same time he feels he has reinstated himself in American good opinion, but the ambassador was said to feel, however, that the action in inducing his government virtually to repudiate the course of

EDWIN MEGEE

RAISING POULTRY For PROFIT

By John Wildig

On account of sickness I was unable to make an exhibit of poultry at our county fair last week, but was able to visit the fair on Wednesday and was pleased to see such a large exhibit of poultry for a fair of this size. There was practically every variety of poultry in the Standard on exhibition and some were exceptionally good in both size and color of the breeds they represented. Mr. Zike of Morristown judged the exhibit and spoke very highly of the quality of the stock and the management in general.

The size of the single exhibition coops should be two feet by two feet and six inches high. Coops of even size gives the superintendent a better chance to arrange the exhibit and also makes a far better appearance. I noticed some of the coops were entirely too small for the large birds they contained. This should not be allowed another year. It is a detriment to health of the fowl and does not give the bird a chance to show its true carriage or symmetry for which the Standard allows eight points in one hundred. In addition, it is against the rules of the American Poultry association to use any other than standard-sized for exhibition purposes.

I am sorry to say that most of the methods used by some of our huckster poultrymen are not to be commended to those fanciers who have the poultry raising business at heart. The one raises poultry for the purpose of improving his flock, the other buys a fairly good chicken here and there, shows them at fair and offers them for sale as prize winners, when, as a matter of fact, these birds are practically useless as breeders.

Never buy stock bird unless you are absolutely certain that the foundation stock or sire and dam were perfectly healthy and that both were bred from heavy layers. Also, always buy from specialty breeders, that is, the man or woman who has devoted his or her life to perfecting the breed of poultry they have selected.

There has been much discussion in reference to killing the breeding male birds after the breeding season is over. This is all right in some cases, but where a breeder has a first-class male bird and one that has reproduced a nice line of females in his mating, these males should always be taken care of. Build coops with wire outlet and give this bird the best of care. Such males are scarce and can seldom be replaced. Any number of males can be taken care of in this way, providing they can not see the females. Any man or woman who is a specialty breeder who will send me their names and breed of poultry they represent will be listed in my book for future reference.

the Germany submarine commander believed to have sunk the Arabic may make his position at home a very unhappy one.

German Ambassador Bernstorff admitted to Secretary Lansing this morning the substance of the German government's answer to President Wilson's last submarine note. It consisted of an acceptance of the American demands.

Bernstorff received the German acceptance to America's demands direct from the German foreign office. He did not have his memorandum written in English, however, so communicated it orally to the secretary.

When he left the department it was with the intentions of reducing the memorandum to writing so as to submit it in that form as quickly as possible.

Secretary Lansing said America's demands were agreed to with reference to warning enemy merchantmen before being attacked and to show regards for the safety of passengers.

The communication in the form which it was delivered related to future submarine warfare. It left open all matters of fact to future activities. It was taken for granted that this was because questions of reparation would have to be settled and that diplomatic negotiations would have to be conducted in order to agree on a basis of settlement. No difficulty was expected in adjusting these affairs.

So far as Secretary Lansing's statement indicated, nothing was indicated, nothing was included in the way of a request that the United States reciprocate by taking up with the British government the "starvation blockade." This was thought likely to be touched on later.

It was the first formal assurance, Lansing said, that the department had received that Germany would acquiesce to President Wilson's demands.

An official telegram similar to the news accounts of the sinking of the German submarine that was supposed to have sunk the Arabic reached the state department today, Lansing admitted. The submarine was not positively identified he admitted, as the one that attacked the liner.

The secretary was on his way to the state department from the white house where he had seen President Wilson. Bernstorff arrived at the state department at 10:25, fifteen minutes earlier than his scheduled appointment and immediately went into conference with Lansing.

Bernstorff left the state department at 10:45 a. m. and started at once for his embassy. He said anything given out must come from Lansing.

The ambassador said he had received no confirmation from Berlin of the loss of the submarine supposed to have sunk the Arabic.

A marriage license was issued yesterday to Cecil E. Major and Autta M. Roth.

CELEBRATION IS PLANNED HERE

Mayor J. Leb Watkins of Newcastle Here Today to Arrange For Centennial Observance

LOCAL COMMITTEE IS NAMED

Motion Pictures of Historical Spots in Rush County to be Prepared by Organization

Mayor J. Leb Watkins of Newcastle, one of the seven field agents of the National Patriotic League, was here today making early preparations for the local celebration of the Indiana centennial next year.

Although the work is not identical with that of the Indiana centennial commission, which was created by the last legislature, it is of the same nature and the centennial commission, Mayor Watkins says, has been requested to work in co-operation with the association he represents and has consented to do so.

The program outlined by Mayor Watkins calls for the reproduction in motion pictures of points of historical interest in Rush county, along with some of Rushville's industries. The same thing will be done in all the other counties of the state.

Then the centennial celebration will consist of the showing of these reels of Indiana pictures, depicting things of historical, civic and industrial interest throughout the whole state, sprinkled in with some musical entertainment. It is planned to hold a three-day celebration in each Indiana city.

The dates have been only tentatively selected for Rushville. At the suggestion of Mayor Watkins, Mayor C. L. Bebout appointed a committee of three persons who will be in charge of the local celebration and will co-operate with the field agent of the organization. The committee is composed of R. E. Harrold, G. P. Hunt and Miss Anna Bohannan.

The reason the dates were only tentative is the fact that there was some thought of combining the celebration with the chautauqua and making it a part of the annual assembly.

The association's agreement calls for the expenditure of the proceeds derived from the showing of the pictures and the other entertainment for the erection of a tablet of local interest on some historic event or local history commemorating the hundredth anniversary of the birth of the state.

The committee's duties consist of by selecting material for the motion pictures which will be shown not only in Indiana, but in other states as well. The association expects to send one of its field agents here in advance of the celebration to advertise it properly and bring its merits before the people.

Approximately one hundred and fifteen out of one hundred and seventy cities have been visited and have agreed to have the celebration. It is asked that mayors issue a proclamation calling attention to the days for the celebration whenever the dates are settled.

The National Patriotic League was formed for the avowed purpose "to teach history and quicken the spirit of patriotism." It was incorporated in Washington by Charles A. Korbly, former congressman from Indianapolis; T. L. Michener, former attorney general of Indiana; J. W. Nichol, a Washington attorney and others. Its organization provides for a board of governors of from one to three men from each state and its headquarters are in Washington.

True Secret of Keeping Youthful Looking

(The Beauty Seeker.)

"The real secret of keeping young-looking and beautiful," says a well-known hygienist, "is to keep the liver and bowels normally active. Without these requisites, poisonous waste products remain in the system, polluting the blood and lodging in various organs, tissues, joints. One becomes flabby, obese, nervous, mentally sluggish, dull-eyed, wrinkled and sallow of face.

"But to get liver and bowels working as they ought, without producing evil after-effects, has been the problem. Fortunately, there is a prescription of unquestioned merit, which may now be had in convenient tablet form. Its value is due largely to an ingredient derived from the humble May apple, or its root, which has been called 'vegetable calomel' because of its effectiveness—though of course it is not to be classed with the real calomel of mercurial origin. There is no habit-forming constituent in 'sentinel' tablets—that's the name—and their use is not followed by weakness or exhaustion. On the contrary, these harmless vegetable tablets tend to impart tone and elasticity to the relaxed intestinal wall, which has been put in tablet form, and at such small cost no one need now be deprived of its wonderful benefits.

"Sentinel tablets"—that's the name—are entirely vegetable and there's no habit-forming ingredient. You need only get about a dime's worth, and swallow one at bedtime to realize the effect, which is quite so good for the purpose. The action in the morning is so easy, so soothing, and instead of weakening after effect, you feel truly refreshed and invigorated. Sentinel tablets are not only the finest remedy known for constipation and torpid liver, but offer the safest, most sensible treatment for complexion difficulties of the character mentioned.

Chief Cause of Pimples, Blotches, Sallow Skin

(Messenger of Health.)

Ugly eruptions, pimples, boils, blotches, sallow or muddy skins usually are due to a sluggish liver, a constipated bowel—and a polluted blood stream as a consequence. How foolish in such cases to resort to outward applications, which can never have natural, permanent results. If more people only knew it, there is a very effective remedy, to be found in any drug store, which is as effective as it is harmless and quick acting. It is an old formula, long recognized by the medical profession, which has been put in tablet form, and at such small cost no one need now be deprived of its wonderful benefits.

"Sentinel tablets"—that's the name—are entirely vegetable and there's no habit-forming ingredient. You need only get about a dime's worth, and swallow one at bedtime to realize the effect, which is quite so good for the purpose. The action in the morning is so easy, so soothing, and instead of weakening after effect, you feel truly refreshed and invigorated. Sentinel tablets are not only the finest remedy known for constipation and torpid liver, but offer the safest, most sensible treatment for complexion difficulties of the character mentioned.

Great Demand for New Constipation Remedy

They say that the advent of the "sentinel tablet" as a vegetable substitute for calomel has resulted in an extraordinary demand for this remarkable product. It seems to have made its way particularly with those afflicted with chronic constipation, who were quick to recognize its advantages over calomel and the usual laxatives.

Sentinel tablets, aside from their efficacy, doubtless owe their success largely to a tendency to aid in bringing about normal functioning—instead of encouraging the "cathartic habit." Also, instead of injuring the membranous lining of the organs involved, but offer a healing influence. Instead of weakening, they add tone to the intestinal wall. And they work so easily and gently, they are of course preferred on this account to the violently acting purgatives. Their inexpressiveness is another reason for the popularity of sentinel tablets. One need procure only a dime's worth, and take one tablet upon retiring, to be convinced that the ideal remedy for constipation, torpid liver, and all its evil consequences, has finally been found.—Druggists Review.

WATSON IS GIVEN CREDIT FOR WORK

Editor of Newcastle Times, Democratic, Says he is Only Fellow
With Courage to Fight

ENTITLED TO FIRST PICK

W. S. Chambers, editor of the Newcastle Times, Democratic, com-ments on the influences in some quarters to prevent James E. Wat-son of this city from becoming a candidate for the Republican can-didate for United States senator. He says Mr. Watson was the only Re-publican in Indiana with the courage to come out in the open and fight for the Republican party in 1912 and that he is entitled to first pick when the rewards are passed around. He says:

Republican newspapers announce the candidacy of James E. Watson for the nomination for United States Senator. Certain influences in the party have tried to keep Mr. Watson from making the race. They have been willing that he stand on the firing line to receive all the bricks, the criticisms and sharp abuse heaped on the stand-patters and that he have the responsibility of answering at-tacks that some of them could not handle. When the worst of the fight is over and there is a fighting chance for some rewards, the fellows who sulked in the back ground become suddenly bold and demand that Watson retire in favor of some polit-ician who was not so aggressive.

If it had not been for Jim Watson, and a few like him who are his friends there would not have been enough of the Republican party left in Indiana to shoot at. It would have taken a search warrant and a search light to have found the rem-nants. If there are any rewards to pass around in Indiana to Republi-cans Jim Watson is entitled to have the first pick.

One Thing Overlooked

The average duty collected on imports under the Democratic tariff law is equivalent to an ad valorem duty of 13 per cent. That is, on every dollar of imports, the government collected 20 cents for every dollar's worth of goods imported.
The theory of the Democrats was that the lower duty would bring in more goods and make up most of the difference. They ignored the fact that every dollar spent for foreign goods means one dollar less spent for the product of American labor.
They also ignored the fact that every dollar spent for labor is resented by its recipient, until, in the course of a year, it has passed through 12 different hands and given employment to 12 different men. Therefore, for every dollar's worth of foreign made goods brought in under the Democratic tariff law, there was taken from American labor not merely one dollar of wages but 12 dollars. These facts explain, in a nutshell, why millions of men were jobless as soon as the Democratic tariff law was enacted and why they have continued jobless except to the extent that the war in Europe has shut off importations and given employment to men engaged in producing or manufacturing foodstuffs, munitions or equipment for the nations of Europe.

Stealing Republican thunder has become so common a practice among Democrats that their consciences have become calloused. They fought the postal savings bank law but now laud the results it has accomplished and seek credit for its success. They opposed a policy of preparedness and now that their folly has been proven, would be known as its chief sponsors. They condemned "dollar diplomacy" when a Republican administration was trying to build up our foreign commerce, but now they are bending every energy in the same direction. Pretty soon we shall see them advocating a protective tariff in spite of their many years of denunciation of the Republican "Made-in-America" policy.

According to the Construction News, building construction in the United States for July showed a decrease of 13 per cent in comparison with the corresponding month a year ago. Practically all the large cities showed material decreases, Brooklyn alone showing an increase of 11 per cent. New York fell off 10 per cent and Chicago 29 per cent.

The net balance in the general fund of the U. S. Treasury at the close of business August 23 was $55,760,889 as compared with a balance of $126,663,944 on the same date two years ago under Republican laws. The administration spent $27,382,411 more than it collected during the first 54 days of the present fiscal year.

Wholesale prices of 25 leading articles of food for the second week in August were higher than for the corresponding week in 1913. This is shown by the N. Y. Times Annalist which gives the index number as 145.17 for 1915, as compared with 139 for 1913.

Lesson of a Shut-Down.

(Manchester Mirror.)

The news that the Amoskeag Manufacturing company was to close down its mills from Saturday, August 14, to Tuesday, Sept. 7, was read in this city with genuine regret.

It is unfortunate for the big corporation, as well as for the best interests and welfare of Manchester, that such curtailment of its output becomes necessary at this time and in the present condition of affairs industrially in this country.

There is a remedy for this condition of business, which is universal in this country and this newspaper would be unfair to its readers and to the good and welfare of New Hampshire if it did not again point out the same.

In 1912 the voters of this country were fooled into returning the Democratic party to power. With it came a reduction of the tariff, framed by Oscar W. Underwood, chairman of the ways and means committee of the national congress, who announced to the nation that President Wilson, as well as himself, favored a competitive tariff, one that would put the American manufacturer and the American workingman in direct competition with Europe.

From the moment that idea became known to the business world there was a slacking down, a lack of confidence, shut-downs and curtail-ments. It has taken place repeatedly in Manchester, as well as other sections of the country. Today, in this country, what industries are running are nearly all filling orders for war material. There has been a tremendous slow down in domestic business, and had not this war taken place every man who knows true conditions realizes most forcibly that we would now be in the throes of a severe business depression.

The Democratic party, in a vain and frantic effort to reduce the high cost of living, has destroyed and crippled business. The workingmen of Manchester, New Hampshire and this nation have the power to bring back prosperity and good business with steady employment, but there is only one way it can be done. That is by returning the Republican party to power in 1916. The present iniquitous tariff law must be repealed and in its place must be enacted a law which preserves the American market, which restores confidence and which gives protection to the American laborer.

The Democratic party has not only wrecked private business but it has almost bankrupted the treasury. Owing to extravagant legislation, to the fact that its policy caused tremendous reduction in revenues, the running expenses are now exceeding the hundreds of millions of dollars the actual income.

All this, notwithstanding the fact that the first time in the history of this government in times of peace, the present Democratic party is the only one that has ever been compelled to levy a stamp tax and other additional tax burdens directly on the backs of the people.

But right here in Manchester, with the Amoskeag and with the shoe industries, the voters have an opportunity to see what stewardship Hollis, Reed and Stevens rendered for them. These frequent shut-downs and curtailments are the result of the votes of Reed, Hollis, Stevens and the Southern Democrats. These three New Hampshire men helped by voice and vote to put upon the statute books the legislation that has closed and curtailed the manufacturing industries of this city and state and also the nation.

It rests in 1916 with the voters of New Hampshire and this country whether or not they desire a continuation of this policy. There never can be any improvement as long as the present tariff law is in force.

RURAL ROUTE MEN FIGHT CYCLE ORDER

Those Interested in Burleson's Move to Stop Delivery on Motorcycles Organize.

WRITE THEIR CONGRESSMEN

Bold action has been taken by all those interested in the motorcycle to combat the recent order of Postmaster-General Burleson, prohibiting the use of the "two-wheeler" in R. F. D. service after January 1, next. All of the three cycle trades bodies, which convened at Atlantic City during the first week in August, took action in the matter, with the result that the R. F. D. riders themselves at their convention at Detroit last week, have seen fit to commend the work of the "two wheeler" in their service to Postmaster General Burleson and the fourth assistant postmaster-general, who is in direct charge of this branch of service.

The better than 3,000 R. F. D. men who are affected by the order are writing direct to their senators and congressmen on the matter as well as to the "powers that be" in the post-office. While all of the objections which the postmaster-general propounded to the use of the "two-wheeler" cannot be gainsaid, yet, that the motorcycle with van attached has the capacity, durability and reliability required for work of this sort, while at the same time the mail matter is fully protected against exposure to the elements, is not to be denied.

NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNERS IN RUSHVILLE, IND.

All property owners who have taken the benefit of the Barrett Law for Sidewalk, Curb, Gutter, Return-Curb, or Sewer Improvement, are hereby notified that the Fall Assessment is due and payable at the City Treasurer's Office, Room 1, Court House, on or before November 1, 1915. Failing to pay same on date above named, the City Treasurer is required by law to impose a penalty of 10% and collect interest on delinquency from date due to date paid. He has no discretion in the matter, and will follow the exact letter of the law. Should any Assessment remain unpaid December 1, 1915, the law requires him to certify the amount due to the County Auditor, and it becomes his duty to place the property, against which the assessment due is delinquent, on the Delinquent Tax List, and sell the property as other property is sold for delinquent taxes. Should this occur there will be additional costs added to the amount due. You will, therefore, find it to your financial advantage to make payment of such assessment ON or BEFORE NOVEMBER 1st, 1915. Under an amendment to the Barrett Law, passed by the 1915 Legislature you are permitted to pay off the remaining installments of Principal by paying six months interest in advance, thereby saving the amount of interest that would be collected on deferred payments in the regular way.

J. P. STECH, City Treasurer.

GIANTS PROVE BIG FAILURE

McGraw's Team, Highest Salaried in League, Has Not Played Good Ball This Year

PLAYERS SHIRK ON THE JOB

Lot of Talent Will be Floating Around Unless Things Improve
Two Released

BY GEORGE R. HOLMES
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
New York, Sept. 1.—If the Giants finish anywhere but first place, they will probably go down as the biggest failures of the weird season of 1915. The New York club is admittedly the highest salaried one in the National League, and has the most "paper strength" of any, with the possible exception of the Braves. Everything at the start of the season was in their favor, and Gotham fans settled back for a long season of battling between McGraw's clan and the Braves for the pennant. On dope they were the only ones who stood a show of getting in the October classic.

The teams are turning into the home stretch today, with the world's series but five weeks away, and most of the dopesters and betters are scrambling their brains trying to decide which to lay their shekels on—Brooklyn or Philadelphia.

The Giants haven't had much hard luck—as hard luck goes, accidents and such. True they have had bad luck—but McGraw has won pennants in the face of far heavier odds than he has had to face this season. He had a team of veterans last March that had stood up under the fire and gaff of many grueling pennant races, and they were all going good. There were few signs of cracks—Mathewson had had one of his best seasons, as had Tesreau. The erratic Marquard had finished a fair season, and according to the way Rube has run since he broke into the big show, he should have been done for a while of a season in 1915. Backing them up were Stroud, Schupp, and Schauer, a trio of mighty likely looking youngsters.

There was a hole at third base, a gaping left by Tilly Schaffer's retirement. McGraw went out and grabbed Hans Lobert who batted .275 with the weak Phils the year before and was listed as one of the fastest men on the bases in the Tender circuit. Lobert has fallen down woefully with McGraw's team. He is batting around .240 and his name isn't even among the first base stealers. His fielding too, has slumped.

McGraw freely blames his pitchers, and it seems he is justified. Marquard, the eccentric, hasn't won half his games. Matt the steady, hasn't won half his games, Tesreau has barely managed to split fifty-fifty, and the three youngsters have proved so unsteady that McGraw has used them only as relief hurlers.

McGraw, however, has awakened to the fact that its time to begin house-cleaning, and has started by cutting the supports under Fred Snodgrass, long one of his favorites. Rumor has said that Chief Meyers and Rube Marquard were slated for the hooks. Giant officials have denied this, but its a safe bet that if they don't pick up in their work by the last of the season, there's going to be some new talent floating around the Polo Grounds.

McGraw has a crew to pick with the Umpires. John never was original.

"The National League has seen the rottenest umpiring in its history this season," he said, recently. "There is but one competent umpire in the League—Bill Klem. With a fair break in the umpiring, the Giants might have finished better."

George Burns is another player who has not delivered. Last year, Burns stole 62 bases and batted over .300. This year he is hitting the ball around .270 and has stolen less than twenty bases.

Although Mac had a good pitching staff at the start of the season, he wasn't satisfied.

"If I had just one more good pitcher, I'd be willing to ride," he opined.

So he went out and grabbed Poll Perritt, who had been one of the best pitchers in the league the year before, and Poll hasn't won half of his games.

LAW EXPLAINED BY JOHN A. LAPP

Result of Four Session of Legislature Shown in Act That Became Effective Today.

COMPENSATION FOR INJURIES

Schedule Given For Certain Injuries—Farm Laborers And Domestic Exempt

Note—The Daily Republican reproduces today an article explaining the new Workmen's Compensation law which went into effect today. The article was written for the United Press by John A. Lapp, director of the Indiana bureau of legislative information, shortly after the close of the recent legislative session and is authoritative.

BY JOHN A. LAPP
(Written especially for the U. P.)
Workman's Compensation

For four sessions of the legislature the subject of workmen's compensation for industrial accidents has been discussed. The enactment of the law this year brings the first concrete result from the discussion.

The law applies to all employment except farm laborers, domestic servants and casual laborers. After September 1st, 1915, when the law takes effect as to injuries, every employee coming under the act, who is injured in the course of his work, will receive compensation for injuries according to a fixed scale. It will not matter how the accident occurred so long as the employee was not injured through wilful misconduct, intoxication, self-infliction, or failure to use a safety device or perform a duty required by statute. The burden is on the employer to prove any of these misdeeds of the employee.

The law presumes that all employers and employees come under the act unless they give notice before September 1st that they do not wish to operate under the law. If an employer gives a notice to that effect, he must take his chance in the courts as at present in cases of accidents but he cannot plead as a defense that the employee was negligent, or that the injury was caused by the negligence of a fellow employee or that the employee assumed the risk of the injury. Under the employers' liability act at present he cannot plead those three defenses so that no change will be made in the status of the employer if he decides not to come under the act. If the employee chooses to stay out of the plan and take his chances in the courts he cannot recover damages if the injury was due to negligence, or was caused by a fellow servant, and he is presumed to assume the risk of the injury. So that if the employee does not come under the plan he is put back where he was before the employers' liability act of 1911 was passed.

The new law provides for quick, certain and amicable adjustment of all losses, and both employers and employees will doubtless gladly accept the terms and choose to keep out of the courts and away from the ambulance chasing lawyers and have their cases settled under the law. The simplest explanation of the law will be an outline of how it will work.

Suppose that John Smith is employed as a workman in the factory of William Henry and that neither has given notice that he does not wish to come under the act. Now, if John Smith is injured after Sept. 1, 1915, his employer must give free medical care and supplies for thirty days. After fourteen days he begins to draw a sum equal to 55 per cent of his wages. If he is totally disabled this payment will continue for a period of 500 weeks. If he is partially disabled the compensation is at the rate one half the difference between his earning capacity before and after injury. That is if he could earn $20 a week before and $10 afterwards he would receive one half of the difference $5. A schedule of some injuries with the time of payment is set forth as follows:—

- (A) For the loss by separation of not more than one phalange, of a thumb or not more than two phalanges of a finger, 15 weeks.
- (B) For the loss by separation of not more than two phalanges or a finger, or a whole finger or toe, 30 weeks.
- (C) For the loss by separation of more than one phalange of a thumb or of a whole thumb, 60 weeks.
- (D) For the permanent and irrecoverable loss of the sight of one eye or its reduction to one-tenth of normal vision with glasses, 100 weeks.
- (E) For loss by separation of one foot at or above the ankle joint 125 weeks.
- (F) For the loss by separation of one hand at or above the wrist joint 150 weeks.
- (G) For the loss by separation of one leg at or above the knee joint, 175 weeks.
- (H) For the loss by separation of one arm at or above the elbow joint, 200 weeks.
- (I) For the permanent and complete hearing, 75 weeks.

In all other cases of permanent partial disability, including any disfigurement which may impair the future usefulness or opportunities of the injured employee, compensation in lieu of all other compensation shall be paid when and in the amount determined by the Industrial board, not to exceed fifty-five per cent of average weekly wages per week for a period of two hundred weeks.

Where death shall within 300 weeks, the payment of one half the wages of the deceased is made to the defendant wife, or husband or child (under eighteen years) during the remainder of the 300 weeks. In all cases of death the burial expenses are paid by the employer.

Every employer, to meet the losses from accidents is compelled to carry insurance in an approved liability company unless he can satisfy the industrial board that he is capable financially to meet all losses. The employer must give evidence of his insurance and the board issues a certificate to remain in force for a period fixed by the board, and subject to revocation by the board. Employers are authorized to form mutual insurance companies to carry their risks.

The administration of the act is carried on through the Indiana Industrial Board consisting of three commissioners appointed by the governor. The duties of this commission are numerous and heavy. They must formulate rules of procedure to settle the infinite number of questions which will come before them; they must pass upon appeals in matters affecting damages; they must fix the damages and pass upon the sufficiency of the insurance carried by employers. The variety of questions which will arise is as great as the variety of ways in which men may be injured. Some things are fixed by the act but obviously there are thousands of contingencies which cannot be foreseen which are left to the discretion of the board. The responsibility of seeing that this act results in the great social reform which it contemplates rests largely upon the board. They must see that justice is done to the workers and on the other hand that fraud is not worked in cases of injury and that fake injuries and manignering are not allowed.

There is no greater need in society than insurance against industrial accidents. Fully 25,000 men are killed every year in the United States and a half million are injured. Up to 1911 no state had enacted a valid law to provide against these losses. Now there are 32 states which have enacted laws which at least take a forward step. Indiana's new law is merely a step. It is not up to the standard set in many states but it is a vast improvement over the employers' liability law which was in turn a great improvement over the oil riot of individualism which is superseded.

ONE DEAD FROM A FOUNDRY MISHAP

Workman Crushed by Fifty Tons of Iron and Coke When Floor in Marion Plant Falls.

WAS INSPECTED LAST MONTH

Marion, Ind., Sept. 1.—In the collapse of the charging floor of the cupola of the Atlas foundry in South Marion yesterday afternoon John Dillon, 30 years old, was killed; Ora Wallace, colored, was seriously injured, both legs being crushed from the hips down, and Joe Bruzis and William Chinski sustained severe injuries.

Dillon was buried beneath fifty tons of iron ore, coke and machinery. His body was not removed until 50 workmen removed the wreckage in frantic attempt to rescue the man. Almost every bone in his body was broken.

The crash came without a second's warning. The workmen were employed on the charging scaffold about twenty feet above the floor, filling the cupola with the daily charge of iron ore, coke and other materials, when the crash came, carrying down with the men a crushing machine. It was half an hour before Dillon's body was found.

The cause of the accident is unknown. The factory management declares that the plant has been inspected by four factory inspectors within the last month. The approximate loss to the company is $1,500.

PLANS FOR HORSE SHOW DISCUSSED

Merchants Hear Proposition For Free Attractions and Decide to Have Booths Again This Year.

COMMITTEES WILL BE NAMED

Merchants Vote to Hold Style Show September 21, 22 and 23—Officers Are Elected.

Rapid strides were made Tuesday night at a meeting in the court house assembly room toward preparations for the annual fall festival and horse show October 25 to 30.

It was arranged for special committees to be appointed, horse show officers were selected and steps were taken toward obtaining some free attractions. Some airships flights are among the things being considered for the festival and show.

Incidentally, while all of the merchants were together, it was the choice of a majority present that a fall style show be held September 21, 22 and 23.

W. S. Oneal, who has been working at the horse show for years, was elected to act as manager and secretary and J. V. Young was nominated and elected treasurer.

S. L. Trabue, president of the Chamber of Commerce, who called the meeting, presided. He asked the meeting how it would make plans for the festival and show. Earl H. Payne moved that the chairman of the meeting and Mr. Oneal name the proper committees to carry on the work. It was announced that the committees would be selected in a very few days and published in local newspapers.

Mr. Trabue called on Henry B. Marks, who was invited here to explain some free attractions he has no offer. Mr. Marks described a proposition to give two airship flights daily for three days, with a firework display of set pieces each night. He also asked permission to bring in some concessions, none of them to be refreshment stands.

The question was debated for some time, it finally being suggested that the question of free attractions be referred to a special committee, with power to act. This was put in the form of a motion and carried, and the following committee was appointed:

A. L. Riggs, R. H. Jones, John B. Morris, Walter Easley, F. E. Wolcott, together with W. S. Oneal and J. V. Young as ex-officio members.

The question of whether booths be erected this year as a part of the decoration scheme was also debated. It was finally determined that booths should be used this year the same as last year. They were a new feature last year and were very popular. The idea was advanced that the booths not only were the cheapest decorations possible, but they formed an ideal place for the crowds to rest and were fine for merchants to use to make displays.

It was determined that red, white and blue should be the colors used in the decorations this year, the same as last year.

In as much as there was a large crowd of merchants present, E. R. Casady, chairman of the fall style show committee, suggested that there be a vote taken on the question whether a fall style should be held by the Rushville merchants this year. He said the committee had met and approved the plan and wanted to know of the merchants favored it. He suggested Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, September 21, 22 and 23.

A rising vote was taken and most of the merchants stood up in favor

SELECTION MADE ON FIFTH BALLOT

Ray Lakin is Elected Nightwatchman, Receiving One More Than Number Necessary For Choice.

Ray Lakin was elected night-watchman to succeed Frank Sullivan, deceased, at the meeting in the court house assembly room Tuesday night, receiving one more vote than the number necessary to elect on the fifth ballot. John Conroy who was the only candidate left with Lakin on the deciding ballot, received thirty-two votes and Lakin 34.

There were nine candidates when the voting began. On the first ballot Lakin received 17, Arlie Price 11, Conroy 17, Clyde Nebro 13, Clayton Fritch 1, Frank Keely 3, Blaine Hunt 1, Frank Beecraft 1. On the second ballot Keely, Fritch, Hunt and Beecraft received no votes, but Eddie Wolters received a vote. On the third and fourth ballots it narrowed down to a contest between Lakin, Conroy, Price and Nebro.

Before the voting began, the meeting unanimously decided that the successful candidate should pay Frank Sullivan's widow $400, the sum which Sullivan paid for the job, at the rate of $5 a week; that he should look after the job personally and not sublet it; that he shall be a sober man; that the merchants have the right to decide who shall be his successor in case of sale and that a committee should be appointed to see that the contract was drawn up and signed. W. O. Feudner presided at the meeting.

LOCAL CELEBRATION IS PLAN

W. C. Woodward, director of the Indiana centennial commission has been notified that John A. Titsworth had accepted the county chairmanship of the commission for Rush county. The centennial commission plans to organize each county with a chairman and committeeman from each township. The county chairmen form the state committee which is expected to co-operate with the commission.

The plans of the commission call for a local celebration by towns and counties, all of which will be brought together and culminate in the mammoth state celebration in Indianapolis in the fall of 1916, which is the hundredth year of existence for the state of Indiana.

ACCIDENT TO THRESHER FATAL

Willard Wilkes Dies at His Home Late Tuesday as Result of Mishap Ten Days Ago.

HAPPENED NEAR ARLINGTON

Realized he Would Die and Made All Arrangements For Funeral—Married Two Months.

Willard Wilkes, 22 years old, who was injured ten days ago in a threshing accident at the farm of Elmer Hutchinson, near Arlington, died Tuesday afternoon at three-thirty o'clock at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Wilkes, near Homer. He had been suffering from blood poisoning for the past few days and his death was not unexpected.

On August 19 while engaged in threshing with the company near Arlington, he was assisting in repairing the engine. The engine was started suddenly and his right arm was caught in the fly wheel. The right arm was broken both above and below the elbow, and the thumb and wrist were badly lacerated. At the time it was thought the hand might have to be amputated.

He did not improve and one week ago Monday it was found necessary to amputate the arm just below the elbow. Blood poisoning had already set in and it was hoped by this amputation to save his life. The poisoning, however, developed further and early yesterday it was seen that he could not live much longer. At ten o'clock Tuesday morning Mr. Wilkes realized that the end was near and calling his family to his bedside he bade them goodbye, saying that he did not fear to die. He also made arrangements for his burial and funeral, selecting the minister, singers and songs.

The mishap which eventually caused his death was purely accidental. The threshing machine had not been working exactly right that day, the engineer having trouble with the clutch slipping. Wilkes was not employed on the engine but on the separator and went to the engine simply to help out. The engine was in charge of Chester Northam.

Mr. Wilkes had been married only two months. He is survived by his widow, his parents and two brothers, Louis and Virgil and three sisters, Mrs. Orville Carmony and Mrs. Charles Carmony of Manilla and Miss Mabel, at home.

The funeral services will be conducted Thursday afternoon at two o'clock in the Manilla Christian church and burial will take place in the cemetery there.

DEMONSTRATION EXPECTED

Followers of Orozco Alleges he Was Killed by Americans.

(By United Press.)
El Paso, Texas, Sept. 1.—Mexican sympathizers of General Pascual Orozco, who was shot to death near here last night, claim he was murdered in cold blood by Americans. Demonstrations by Orozco followers are looked for tonight when the bodies of Orozco, and his four companions will be brought to El Paso.

The police and secret service agents are looking for agitators who are trying to arouse the Mexicans against Americans.

IS PRIMARILY A DISTRICT AFFAIR

But Large Crowd of Republicans From Elsewhere in Indiana is Expected Here Sept. 15.

COMMITTEE MEETS TONIGHT

Connersville, News Says Fayette County Will Send Long Train of Automobiles Here.

Plans were going forward rapidly today for the big barbaque and "Governors Day" to be held in the city park here Wednesday, September 15 for the Republicans of the sixth district and all others in Indiana who may attend. It is to be primarily a sixth district affair, but it is anticipated that many Republicans outside the district will be present.

The executive committee will hold another meeting tonight at which the final draft of the committees will be made ready for publication tomorrow. The committees will consist of those on finance, advertising, invitation, ox roast, music and decorating.

Results are being seen already from what little publicity the meeting has had. But the committee on advertising and publicity has extensive plans to bring the largest crowd ever at a district meeting to Rushville. Newspapers and handbills are to be used to spread broadcast over the state the news of the free dinner to be served here and Republican speeches that will be given.

The chairman of the executive committee will write a personal letter to every Republican county chairman and precinct committeeman in the sixth district urging his attendance. The Shelby county fair grounds will be flooded with hand bills Thursday and Friday advertising the ox-roast and barbaque.

Concerning the event the Connersville News says:

A movement is afoot in Fayette county to send a train of automobiles to Rushville on Wednesday, September fifteenth. The reason is sufficient, for on that day a barbaque of the old kind is to be held there. It is to be a Republican event, and the Old Burnt District entire is to have a part. Speakers of the order, James E. Watson among them, will be present, and the plans for a roaring, rousing Republican feast and rally are fully made and wholly promising. The event will be among the first of its kind to be held in the Sixth Congressional district in recent years.

The schools in all the townships of the county, except two, will open next Monday, September 6. The schools in Center township will open the following Monday and the opening of the Manilla school will be postponed until sometime in October. It is hoped to have the new building in Manilla in shape for the opening by the middle of October. It was stated today that the new building there will not be completed, but will be near enough finished that school can be held by that time.

The first teachers' institute of the year will be held Saturday in the assembly room of the court house. This is the preliminary institute and is to be attended by all of the township teachers. After this the teachers will meet in joint-township institutes. Indiana history will be given consideration this year at the institutes as this is the general subject under which all the programs are formed.

The Rushville city schools will open Monday, September 13.

WELL LOCATED BY A "WATER WITCH"

With Aid of Peach Fork and His "Charm," John Whitton Discovers Vein of Water.

The water committee of the city council admits that it is just the least bit superstitious, but does not care if the desired results are obtainable. The city is contemplating the drilling of a new water well, and yesterday secured John Whitton, a "water witch" of considerable note, to locate the proposed well. This is an old method, but everyone is not a "water witch."

The process is very simple. A fork from a peach tree is used by the "witch" and when held securely over a vein of water the ends of the peach fork will bend towards the ground. Under the method tried, the city officials believe they will have a fine well on the John Beale lot, in West Fifth street, near the Big Four railway.

Whitton searched all over this section of the city and finally found a fine vein of water, according to the peach fork, on the Beale lot. A stake was promptly driven in the ground and the city will start drilling for water within the next week.

BERLIN ACCEPTS U.S. DEMANDS

America's Plans Agreed to With Reference to Warning Enemy Merchantmen Before Attack.

NO RECIPROICATION ASKED

Communication Relates to Future Submarine Warfare But Leaves Open Matters of Fact.

BY CHARLES P. STEWART.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
Washington, Sept. 1.—Germany today officially accepted America's terms.

Ambassador Bernstorff, speaking for the German foreign office, informed the state department that henceforth the kaiser's submarine methods will conform to America's interpretation of international law.

There will be no more unwarned attacks on merchant ships, Germany stated. Vessels suspected of carrying contraband will be visited and searched before being destroyed. There crews and passengers will be given every opportunity to escape.

"Liners will not be sunk by our submarines without warning and without safety of the lives of non-combatants provided that the liners do not try to escape or offer resistance," was the written statement of Ambassador Bernstorff, conveying his instructions to the secretary of state today on the German answer to the latest Lusitania note.

In substance, the same assurance had been made to the state department informally several days ago. This relieved the tension but there was still much anxiety concerning the nature and conditions of the German concession. It was feared they might be so qualified as to be unacceptable.

All such doubts were removed today. The full text of the ambassador's note to the secretary of state was as follows:

"My Dear Secretary—With reference to our conversation of this morning, I beg to inform you that my instructions concerning our answer to your last Lusitania note contained the following:

"Although I know you do not wish to discuss the Lusitania question until the Arabic incident has been definitely and satisfactorily settled, I desire to inform you, of the above because this policy of my government was decided on before the Arabic incident arose.

"I have no objection to your making any use you may please of the above information.

"I remain, dear Mr. Lansing,

"Very Sincerely Yours,

(Signed) "J. BERNSTORFF"

Commenting on the foregoing statement, Secretary of State Lansing would only say "that in view of its clearness," it seemed needless to make any comment in regard to it other than to say that it appeared to "a recognition of the fundamental principles for which we have contended."

That Ambassador Bernstorff believes the Berlin government action has cleared the way toward peace in Europe was freely stated by persons in close touch with the embassy.

At the same time he feels he has reinstated himself in American good opinion, but the ambassador was said to feel, however, that the action in inducing his government virtually to repudiate the course of

Editor of Newcastle Times, Democratic, Says he is Only Fellow With Courage to Fight

ENTITLED TO FIRST PICK

W. S. Chambers, editor of the Newcastle Times, Democratic, comments on the influences in some quarters to prevent James E. Watson of this city from becoming a candidate for the Republican candidate for United States senator. He says Mr. Watson was the only Republican in Indiana with the courage to come out in the open and fight for the Republican party in 1912 and that he is entitled to first pick when the rewards are passed around. He says:

Republican newspapers announce the candidacy of James E. Watson for the nomination for United States Senator. Certain influences in the party have tried to keep Mr. Watson from making the race. They have been willing that he stand on the firing line to receive all the bricks, the criticisms and sharp abuse heaped on the stand-patters and that he have the responsibility of answering attacks that some of them could not handle. When the worst of the fight is over and there is a fighting chance for some rewards, the fellows who sulked in the back-ground become suddenly bold and demand that Watson retire in favor of some politician who was not so aggressive.

If it had not been for Jim Watson, and a few like him who are his friends there would not have been enough of the Republican party left in Indiana to shoot at. It would have taken a search warrant and a search light to have found the remnants. If there are any rewards to pass around in Indiana to Republicans Jim Watson is entitled to have the first pick.

The average duty collected on imports under the Democratic tariff law is equivalent to an ad valorem duty of 13 per cent. That is, on every dollar of imports, the government collected 20 cents for every dollar's worth of goods imported. The theory of the Democrats was that the lower duty would bring in more goods and make up most of the difference. They ignored the fact that every dollar spent for foreign goods means one dollar less spent for the product of American labor. They also ignored the fact that every dollar spent for labor is resented by its recipient, until, in the course of a year, it has passed through 12 different hands and given employment to 12 different men. Therefore, for every dollar's worth of foreign goods brought in under the Democratic tariff law, there was taken from American labor not merely one dollar of wages but 12 dollars. These facts explain, in a nutshell, why millions of men were jobless as soon as the Democratic tariff law was enacted and why they have continued jobless except to the extent that the war in Europe has shut off importations and given employment to men engaged in producing or manufacturing foodstuffs, munitions or equipment for the nations of Europe.

Stealing Republican thunder has become so common a practice among Democrats that their consciences have become calloused. They fought the postal savings bank law but now laud the results it has accomplished and seek credit for its success. They opposed a policy of preparedness and now that their folly has been proven, would be known as its chief sponsors. They condemned "dollar diplomacy" when a Republican administration was trying to build up our foreign commerce, but now they are bending every energy in the same direction. Pretty soon we shall see them advocating a protective tariff in spite of their many years of denunciation of the Republican "Made-in-America" policy.

They are slowly but surely learning wise principles of government.
Chairman Walsh, the Industrial Commission class-actuator, finds no thrill in the hunt for senatorial honors in Missouri, and reports that he is out after bigger game—nothing less than the Presidency. A boom for Walsh has already been started among some of the labor unions of the country, and he has addressed many of them lately. Meanwhile the White House policy will be one of "Walshful waiting."

According to the Construction News, building construction in the United States for July showed a decrease of 13 per cent in comparison with the corresponding month a year ago. Practically all the large cities showed material decreases, Brooklyn alone showing an increase of 11 per cent. New York fell off 10 per cent and Chicago 29 per cent.

The net balance in the general fund of the U. S. Treasury at the close of business August 23 was $55,760,889 as compared with a balance of $126,663,944 on the same date two years ago under Republican laws. The administration spent $27,382,411 more than it collected during the first 54 days of the present fiscal year.

Wholesale prices of 25 leading articles of food for the second week in August were higher than for the corresponding week in 1913. This is shown by the N. Y. Times Annalist which gives the index number as 145.17 for 1915, as compared with 139 for 1913.

Current Comments
Lesson of a Shut-Down.
(Manchester Mirror.)

The news that the Amoskeag Manufacturing company was to close down its mills from Saturday, August 14, to Tuesday, Sept. 7, was read in this city with genuine regret.

It is unfortunate for the big corporation, as well as for the best interests and welfare of Manchester, that such curtailment of its output becomes necessary at this time and in the present condition of affairs industrially in this country.

There is a remedy for this condition of business, which is universal in this country and this newspaper would be unfair to its readers and to the good and welfare of New Hampshire if it did not again point out the same.

In 1912 the voters of this country were fooled into returning the Democratic party to power. With it came a reduction of the tariff, framed by Oscar W. Underwood, chairman of the ways and means committee of the national congress, who announced to the nation that President Wilson, as well as himself, favored a competitive tariff, one that would put the American manufacturer and the American workman in direct competition with Europe.

From the moment that idea became known to the business world there was a slacking down, a lack of confidence, shut-downs and curtailments. It has taken place repeatedly in Manchester, as well as other sections of the country. Today, in this country, what industries are running are nearly all filling orders for war material. There has been a tremendous slow down in domestic business, and had not this war taken place every man who knows true conditions realizes most forcibly that we would now be in the throes of a severe business depression.

The Democratic party, in a vain and frantic effort to reduce the high cost of living, has destroyed and crippled business. The workmen of Manchester, New Hampshire and this nation have the power to bring back prosperity and good business with steady employment, but there is only one way it can be done. That is by returning the Republican party to power in 1916. The present iniquitous tariff law must be repealed and in its place must be enacted a law which preserves the American market, which restores confidence and which gives protection to the American laborer.

The Democratic party has not only wrecked private business but it has almost bankrupted the treasury. Owing to extravagant legislation to the fact that its policy caused tremendous reduction in revenues, the running expenses are now exceeding the hundreds of millions of dollars the actual income. All this, notwithstanding the fact that the first time in the history of this government in times of peace, the present Democratic party is the only one that has ever been compelled to levy a stamp-tax and other additional tax burdens directly on the backs of the people.

But right here in Manchester, with the Amoskeag and with the shoe industries, the voters have an opportunity to see what stewardship Hollis, Reed and Stevens rendered for them. These frequent shut-downs and curtailments are the result of the votes of Reed, Hollis, Stevens and the Southern Democrats. These three New Hampshire men helped by voice and vote to put up on the statute books the legislation that has closed and curtailed the manufacturing industries of this city and state and also the nation.

It rests in 1916 with the voters of New Hampshire and this country whether or not they desire a continuation of this policy. There never can be any improvement as long as the present tariff law is in force.

FIGHT CYCLE ORDER
Those Interested in Burleson's Move to Stop Delivery on Motorcycles Organize.
WRITE THEIR CONGRESSMEN

Bold action has been taken by all those interested in the motorcycle to combat the recent order of Postmaster-General Burleson, prohibiting the use of the "two-wheeler" in R. F. D. service after January 1, next. All of the three cycle trades bodies, which convened at Atlantic City during the first week in August, took action in the matter, with the result that the R. F. D. riders themselves at their convention at Detroit last week, have seen fit to commend the work of the "two wheeler" in their service to Postmaster General Burleson and the fourth assistant postmaster-general, who is in direct charge of this branch of service.

The better than 3,000 R. F. D. men who are affected by the order are writing direct to their senators and congressmen on the matter as well as to the "powers that be" in the postoffice. While all of the objections which the postmaster-general propounded to the use of the "two-wheeler" cannot be gainsaid, yet, that the motorcycle with van attached has the capacity, durability and reliability required for work of this sort, while at the same time the mail matter is fully protected against exposure to the elements, is not to be denied.

NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNERS IN RUSHVILLE, IND.

All property owners who have taken the benefit of the Barrett Law for Sidewalk, Curb, Gutter, Return-Curb, or Sewer Improvement, are hereby notified that the Fall Assessment is due and payable at the City Treasurer's Office, Room 1, Court House, on or before November 1, 1915. Failing to pay same on date above named, the City Treasurer is required by law to impose a penalty of 10% and collect interest on delinquency from date due to date paid. He has no discretion in the matter, and will follow the exact letter of the law. Should any Assessment remain unpaid December 1, 1915, the law requires him to certify the amount due to the County Auditor, and it becomes his duty to place the property, against which the assessment due is delinquent, on the Delinquent Tax List, and sell the property as other property is sold for delinquent taxes. Should this occur there will be additional costs added to the amount due. You will, therefore, find it to your financial advantage to make payment of such assessment ON or BEFORE NOVEMBER 1st, 1915. Under an amendment to the Barrett Law, passed by the 1915 Legislature you are permitted to pay off the remaining installments of Principal by paying six months interest in advance, thereby saving the amount of interest that would be collected on deferred payments in the regular way.

J. P. STECH, City Treasurer.

GIANTS PROVE
BIG FAILURE

McGraw's Team, Highest-Salaried in League, Has Not Played Good Ball This Year

PLAYERS SHIRK ON THE JOB

Lot of Talent Will be Floating Around Unless Things Improve Two Released

BY GEORGE R. HOLMES
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

New York, Sept. 1.—If the Giants finish anywhere but first place, they will probably go down as the biggest failures of the weird season of 1915. The New York club is admittedly the highest salaried one in the National League, and has the most "paper strength" of any, with the possible exception of the Braves. Everything at the start of the season was in their favor, and Gotham fans settled back for a long season of battling between McGraw's clan and the Braves for the pennant. On dope they were the only ones who stood a show of getting in the October classic.

The teams are turning into the home stretch today, with the world's series but five weeks away, and most of the dopesters and betters are scrambling their brains trying to decide which to lay their shekels on—Brooklyn or Philadelphia.

The Giants haven't had much hard luck—as hard luck goes, accidents and such. True they have had bad luck—but McGraw has won pennants in the face of far heavier odds than he has had to face this season. He had a team of veterans last March that had stood up under the fire and gaff of many grueling pennant races, and they were all going good. There were few signs of cracks—Mathewson had had one of his best seasons, as had Tesreau. The erratic Marquard had finished a fair season, and according to the way Rube has run since he broke into the big show, he should have been done for a while of a season in 1915. Backing them up were Stroud, Schupp, and Schauer, a trio of mighty likely looking youngsters.

There was a hole at third base, a gaping left by Tilly Schaffer's retirement. McGraw went out and grabbed Hans Lobert who batted .275 with the weak Phils the year before and was listed as one of the fastest men on the bases in the Tanager circuit. Lobert has fallen down woefully with McGraw's team. He is batting around .240 and his name isn't even among the first base stealers. His fielding too, has slumped.

McGraw freely blames his pitchers, and it seems he is justified. Marquard, the eccentric, hasn't won half his games. Matt the steady, hasn't won half his games, Tesreau has barely managed to split fifty-fifty, and the three youngsters have proved so unsteady that McGraw has used them only as relief hurlers.

McGraw, however, has awakened to the fact that its time to begin house-cleaning, and has started by cutting the supports under Fred Snodgrass, long one of his favorites. Rumor has said that Chief Meyers and Rube Marquard were slated for the hooks. Giant officials have denied this, but its a safe bet that if they don't pick up in their work by the last of the season, there's going to be some new talent floating around the Polo Grounds.

McGraw has a crow to pick with the Umpires. John never was original.

"The National League has seen the rottenest umpiring in its history this season," he said, recently. "There is but one competent umpire in the League—Bill Klem. With a fair break in the umpiring, the Giants might have finished better."

George Burns is another player who has not delivered. Last year, Burns stole 62 bases and batted over .300. This year he is hitting the ball around .270 and has stolen less than twenty bases.

Although Mac had a good pitching staff at the start of the season, the wasn't satisfied.

pitcher, I'd be willing to ride," he opined.

So he went out and grabbed Poll Pott, who had been one of the best pitchers in the league the year before, and Poll hasn't won half of his games.

It was announced today that the Elks and Knights of Pythias teams will play next Monday afternoon, Labor Day. This game will count in the Fraternal league standing and is the postponed game between these two teams. As Labor Day is a holiday it is expected that a large crowd will attend the game.

The game for Friday afternoon is between the K. of C.'s and Red Men. This game is attracting much attention. The Knights of Columbus are out for revenge as the Red Men have won over them in one game.

LAW EXPLAINED BY JOHN A. LAPP

Result of Four Session of Legislature Shown in Act That Became Effective Today.

Schedule Given For Certain Injuries—Farm Laborers And Domestic Are Exempt

Note—The Daily Republican reproduces today an article explaining the new Workmen's Compensation law which went into effect today. The article was written for the United Press by John A. Lapp, director of the Indiana bureau of legislative information, shortly after the close of the recent legislative session and is authoritative.

(Written especially for the U. P.)

Workman's Compensation

For four sessions of the legislature the subject of workmen's compensation for industrial accidents has been discussed. The enactment of the law this year brings the first concrete result from the discussion.

The law applies to all employment except farm laborers, domestic servants and casual laborers. After September 1st, 1915, when the law takes effect as to injuries, every employee coming under the act, who is injured in the course of his work, will receive compensation for injuries according to a fixed scale. It will not matter how the accident occurred so long as the employee was not injured through wilful misconduct, intoxication, self-infliction, or failure to use a safety device or perform a duty required by statute. The burden is on the employer to prove any of these misdeeds of the employee.

The law presumes that all employers and employees come under the act unless they give notice before September 1st that they do not wish to operate under the law. If an employer gives a notice to that effect, he must take his chance in the courts as at present in cases of accidents but he cannot plead as a defense that the employee was negligent, or that the injury was caused by the negligence of a fellow employee or that the employee assumed the risk of the injury. Under the employers' liability act at present he cannot plead those three defenses so that no change will be made in the status of the employer if he decides not to come under the act. If the employee chooses to stay out of the plan and take his chances in the courts he cannot recover damages if the injury was due to negligence, or was caused by a fellow servant, and he is presumed to assume the risk of the injury. So that if the employee does not come under the plan he is put back where he was before the employers' liability act of 1911 was passed.

The new law provides for quick, certain and amicable adjustment of all losses, and both employers and employees will doubtless gladly accept the terms and choose to keep out of the courts and away from the ambulance chasing lawyers and have their cases settled under the law. The simplest explanation of the law will be an outline of how it will work.

Suppose that John Smith is employed as a workman in the factory of William Henry and that neither has given notice that he does not wish to come under the act. Now, if John Smith is injured after Sept. 1, 1915, his employer must give free medical care and supplies for thirty days. After fourteen days he begins to draw a sum equal to 55 per cent of his wages. If he is totally disabled this payment will continue for a period of 500 weeks. If he is partially disabled the compensation is at the rate one half the difference between his earning capacity before and after injury. That is if he could earn $20 a week before and $10 afterwards he would receive one half of the difference $5. A schedule of some injuries with the time of payment is set forth as follows:—

- (A) For the loss by separation of not more than one phalange, of a thumb or not more than two phalanges of a finger, 15 weeks.
- (B) For the loss by separation of not more than two phalanges or a finger, or a whole finger or toe, 30 weeks.
- (C) For the loss by separation of more than one phalange of a thumb or of a whole thumb, 60 weeks.
- (D) For the permanent and irrecoverable loss of the sight of one eye or its reduction to one-tenth of normal vision with glasses, 100 weeks.
- (E) For loss by separation of one foot at or above the ankle joint 125 weeks.
- (F) For the loss by separation of one hand at or above the wrist joint 150 weeks.
- (G) For the loss by separation of one leg at or above the knee joint, 175 weeks.
- (H) For the loss by separation of one arm at or above the elbow joint, 200 weeks.
- (I) For the permanent and complete hearing, 75 weeks.

In all other cases of permanent partial disability, including any disfigurement which may impair the future usefulness or opportunities of the injured employee, compensation in lieu of all other compensation shall be paid when and in the amount determined by the Industrial board, not to exceed fifty-five per cent of average weekly wages per week for a period of two hundred weeks.

Where death shall within 300 weeks, the payment of one half the wages of the deceased is made to the defendant wife, or husband or child (under eighteen years) during the remainder of the 300 weeks. In all cases of death the burial expenses are paid by the employer.

Every employer, to meet the losses from accidents is compelled to carry insurance in an approved liability company unless he can satisfy the industrial board that he is capable financially to meet all losses. The employer must give evidence of his insurance and the board issues a certificate to remain in force for a period fixed by the board, and subject to revocation by the board. Employers are authorized to form mutual insurance companies to carry their risks.

The administration of the act is carried on through the Indiana Industrial Board consisting of three commissioners appointed by the governor. The duties of this commission are numerous and heavy. They must formulate rules of procedure to settle the infinite number of questions which will come before them; they must pass upon appeals in matters affecting damages; they must fix the damages and pass upon the sufficiency of the insurance carried by employers. The variety of questions which will arise is as great as the variety of ways in which men may be injured. Some things are fixed by the act but obviously there are thousands of contingencies which cannot be foreseen which are left to the discretion of the board. The responsibility of seeing that this act results in the great social reform which it contemplates rests largely upon the board. They must see that justice is done to the workers and on the other hand that fraud is not worked in cases of injury and that fake injuries and and manigining are not allowed.

There is no greater need in society than insurance against industrial accidents. Fully 25,000 men are killed every year in the United States and a half million are injured. Up to 1911 no state had enacted a valid law to provide against these losses. Now there are 32 states which have enacted laws which at least take a forward step. Indiana's new law is merely a step. It is not up to the standard set in many states but it is a vast improvement over the employers' liability law which was in turn a great improvement over the oil riot of individualism which is superceded.

of the fall style show. There were no votes in opposition to it. Mr. Casady said that it had been deemed a good idea because then all of the merchants would make their fall showings at the same time. Heretofore the dry goods stores, millinery stores, clothing stores and other places have been holding fall and spring openings at different times.

ONE DEAD FROM A FOUNDRY MISHAP

Workman Crushed by Fifty Tons of Iron and Coke When Floor in Marion Plant Falls.

WAS INSPECTED LAST MONTH

Marion, Ind., Sept. 1.—In the collapse of the charging floor of the cupola of the Atlas foundry in South Marion yesterday afternoon John Dillon, 30 years old, was killed; Ora Wallace, colored, was seriously injured, both legs being crushed from the hips down, and Joe Bruzis and William Chinski sustained severe injuries.

Dillon was buried beneath fifty tons of iron ore, coke and machinery. His body was not removed until 50 workmen removed the wreckage in frantic attempt to rescue the man. Almost every bone in his body was broken.

The crash came without a second's warning. The workmen were employed on the charging scaffold about twenty feet above the floor, filling the cupola with the daily charge of iron ore, coke and other materials, when the crash came, carrying down with the men a crushing machine. It was half an hour before Dillon's body was found.

The cause of the accident is unknown. The factory management declares that the plant has been inspected by four factory inspectors within the last month. The approximate loss to the company is $1,500.
